to Reciprocity With Canada. WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.-Members of the Tariff Board are concentrating their work of investigation on subjects relating to Canadian reciprocity. They are making special investigations in regard to wood pulp, pulp wood and print paper, and their first report to the President propably will be on this subject. Next in importance in the scheme of reciprocity with Canada are lumber and citrus fruits. The United States supplies nearly all of the citrus fruits consumed in Canada.

in Canada.

President Taft directed the members of the Tariff Board to suspend their investigations of the chemical schedule and other lines of research for the present and get together the necessary ingermation which will be made the basis for action looking to reciprocity with Canada. The board will not entirely suspend work on the woollen schedule, but the report will first be made on those schedules that relate to Canadian trade.

that pretty much the whole cotton belt of stocks and e has had killing frost, that the yield has on the country. thereby been curtailed, that the movement of the crop continues light, that Liverpool prices were better than expected and that the market of late had become oversoid. Prices advanced roughly $1 to $1.25 a bale. iverpool cabled that the outlook there appears bullish even with a crop of 12 bales, that Manchester accounts are favorable, a large business having been orders at improved prices. October here on the covering of some belated shorts ran up $2 a bale on sales of only 300 bales. Texas had temperatures in many cases of 25 to 32 degrees, Louisians and Mississippi, 28 to 31 Oklahoma, 25 to 30 Georgia and Tennessee, 21 to 32 South Carolina, 29 to 31, and Alabama, 26 to 32, all of which means killing of cotton, whatever may be said as to the size of the crop and the ultimate course of prices. Some of the big crop estimates of late are said to have emanated from bear operators. A Liverpool bouse which was not far out of the way last year (overestimating the crop about 200,000 bales) reiterates an earlier estimate this year of 11,345,000 bales. Liverpool bought and large Southern operators were also among the buyers as well as some Wall Street and spot people. Further frost was predicted for Georgia and the Carolinas. Three Cotton Exchange memberships sold at $14,500, a rise of $200 from the last sale. Many feel that later on the speculation will broaden out considerably, and the steady advance in the price of memberships seems to be further evidence of this feeling. on the covering of some belated shorts last sale. Many feel that later on the speculation will broaden out considerably, and the steady advance in the price of memberships seems to be further evidence of this feeling.

At times recessions occurred. In Texas the condition during October has, it appears, held its own, whereas last year there was a decline of 2.6 per cent. and in 1988 4. per cent. while in 1987 there was a falling off of 5.9 per cent. The Journal of Commerce, from which the above flaures are taken, states that about as per cent. of the crop in that State has been picked, against 83 per cent. last year and 75 per cent. two years aro. In Oklahoma the same newspaper states there has been an improvement during the month and many look for a larger yield than of last year in that State. Fall River's sales for the week turn out to have been only 115.000 pieces. Southern hedge selling was noticeable. Large Philadelthia spot interests continued to sell. There was a certain amount of liquidation for local and Wall Street account. Persistent selling by big spot interests was still a feature. Many are inclined to take the bear side, but others are more disposed to await definite news as to the amount of damage done by the late killing frosts and also to await the next ginning report, which will appear on November 2. There are those who are not so sure that it is the part of wisdom to ignore the frost and the light movement of the crop with the bullish statistics zenerally. Others do not like the smallness of the business at Fall River nor the fact that cotton gooods have not made a more decisive advance. They also look for a larger movement of the crop later on. Yesterday, however, the ending was at about the best prices of the day.

Buyers reported were Messrs. Weld, Scales, Springs, Hubbard, Moyse, Chapin, Hutton, Riordan, Schill: sellers, Messrs, weld springs & Co. Taking a broad view of the situation, there would seem to he no basis for any sustained decline below the present level of prices, although for the reasons above stated it might prov whole have been seen. To 26 points on the general list and 11 on October, closing very steady. Estimated sales, 200,000 bales.

GOSSIP OF WALL STREET.

It was more of a professional market than on any previous Monday for several weeks. On other Mondays of the month the commission houses had had a satisfactory usiness from outside: yesterday the orders were comparatively few. Perhaps it was largely on account of this decrease in public interest that professionals sold the market interest that professionals sold the market confidently soon after the opening and that stocks sold off so easily. Many of the active stocks got down about 1½ points before the decline was stayed, and as the decline was principally due to professional sell-ing so the recovery in the afternoon was probably due principally to professional covering of short contracts. The net result of the day's trading was of little consequence, the active stocks showing only fractional changes at the close of the London did very little in the market. To-morrow is All Saints Day, a Stock Exchange holiday in London. Business for foreign account was further impaired by the fact that the Paris Bourse was closed. to remain closed until Thursday.

About a third of the business was in Steel common. One of the brokers made a compilation of the total sales of stocks n the last three weeks of the month and the total sales of Steel common and showed that this stock alone had supplied 30 per

Wall Street has been much amused at Col. Roosevelt's assertion that the bucket shops are against him, for it recalls that the bucket shops never made so much money as in the last Rocaevelt Administra-tion. Business in the bucket shops was very lively then, and since nineteen out of twenty bucket shop customers then as always were bullish, the Roosevelt days were haleyon days for the so-called 'brokers' who did not execute their customers' orders It was literally a case of everything coming in and nothing going out. Call money got up to 4 per cent , but most of the day's loans were made at 31st per cent., and the high rate of the day was not surprising in view of the fact that the interest and dividend disbursements. These disbursements will amount to approximately $120,000,000, and in addition there is due to-day $13,00 New York city warrants sold in 1907 at about the height of the panic. Most of the warrants are held in London and the exchange to retire them was probably bought some time ago.

Erie's September statement showed an increase of $237,000 in gross earnings and an increase of $58,000 in net. Since Erie pays no dividends it has become the fashion to wax sarcastic over Erie statements among those cynics who think that railroad statements in recent months have reflected a desire of railroad managers to show poverty. In the case of Erie they have contended there is no such motive, for its statements at best could show only a small statements at per could show only a small percentage earned on its capitalization. But the improvement in Eric earnings directly followed the opening of the Bergen cut, which has permitted a more expe-ditious and economical handling of traffic The September statement did not reflect the as have statements for other months since was given out yesterday at the office of President Peters of the Long Island Railroad that after the opening on November 27 of the service between the Flatbush avenue station in Brooklyn and the Pennsylvania Railroad station in Manhattan by way of the East River tubes the trains in use at the opening will be enlarged until through trains made up of sleepers and dining cars will leave the Flatbush station bound for Washington, Chicago and other points.

Leaving the Flatbush avenue station trains will go by way of East New York to Ozone Park, where they will switch on to the main Rockaway tracks and from on to the main Rockaway tracks and from that point will run west to the Sunnyside yard in Long Island City and thence through the East River tunnels into the Manhattan station. It is planned to make the trip in thirty-five minutes. It is understood that this through service will do away with the annex ferry service be-tween the Pennsylvania station in Jersey City and Fulton street in Brooklyn and with the ferry between Twenty-third with the ferry between Twenty-third street and Jersey City.
